Flyers from Riverside

Craft Leaves Village

Nearby Power Lines

A red Bellanca two-seat plane, rented by two Riverside men yesterday, struck high-tension wires near the Whitewater Bridge on Highway 99 last night, killing the occupants and demolishing the flaming aircraft before it struck the ground 60 feet below.

The pilot was Walter Eugene Brockie, 39, Bloomington, and the passenger was Richard Derry Rowlette, 36, Riverside.

According to Civil Aeronautics Authority Officer Roy Outin and Riverside police captain C. A. Cooper, the plane was rented from Jack Copley, flying instructor and rental agency operator, by Brockie who had a pilot's license.

John Noyes, of Desert Air Hotel in Rancho Mirage, said the pair probably had landed the plane on the Desert Air strip, but had not bought any gas or services. He said they did not register.

Mac Haskell said the pair had landed the plane at Palm Springs airport about 3:45 p.m., but again had not registered.

A blinking of lights and momentary power failure about 5 p.m. in Palm Springs, and a power blackout for three minutes in Banning at the same time gave mute testimony to the collision.

Banning Sheriff's officers and Palm Springs police rushed to the scene less than 100 yards from Highway 99 as soon as it was reported.

The charred bodies and bare, twisted sections of the airframe were the only residue. They indicated the plane had been travelling north when it struck the wires. One authority said the poles supporting the death-dealing lines are spaced so far apart that a speeding plane might overlook the wires. There was no negligence or plane failure indicated.

The only other portion of the aircraft not burned showed some of the numbers, 4729. They were later an aid in identification.

The pilot, according to Capt. Cooper, had been a poultry butcher in Bloomington three years ago, but had moved away. Notification of his death was the only indication to Cooper that he had returned to the area.

The passenger, known better by Cooper, was classified as a laborer from Riverside.

Both persons apparently are survived by their mothers in the Riverside area. Rowlette had been married, but separated from his wife, Lucie, about six years ago, Cooper said.

Plan for Single Sewer Bond Issue Drawn

City Engineer Frank Hamerschlag's department is preparing a plan for a single item bond election which would finance a sewer system. It is scheduled to be presented to the city council March 14.

The recommendation will leave the election date open. With the outline for this method of financing a modified sewage disposal plant, there will be additional recommendations for regulation of use of the present sewer trunk lines.

SINCE THE PRESENT trunk lines and disposal plant are operating at near-capacity, a schedule of new users must be made.

Indications are that applications for tying in from secondary laterals will be denied, but those for direct building-to-trunk line tie-ins will be approved until capacity is reached.

The Mohave Indian says: "The white man's forehead is wrinkled because he is always asking, 'Will tomorrow be bad?' He never has time to smile because it is very good right now."

INDIAN NAMES. In the matter of geographical names the contribution of the Indian is conspicuous. At least twenty of the states comprised in the United States bear Indian names, while for rivers, lakes and towns, the list of Indian names is in almost equal proportion.

4 Commuters Involved in 2 Crashes in Massachusetts During Blinding Snowstorm

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (U) — At least 16 persons were killed and more than 60 injured today when one commuter train smashed into the rear of another in a driving snowstorm.

Some passengers who survived the wreck were involved in a second collision of two other commuter trains that occurred later about five miles from the scene of the first accident.

At least 12 persons were injured in the second wreck, which also was a rear-end collision.

The first, and worst, smashup occurred near Swampscott Junction.

Rescuers recovered 16 bodies. It was feared the toll might be higher.

The first collision, outside Swampscott Junction, involved passenger trains bound from Portsmouth, N. H., and Salem, Mass., for Boston.

The second accident was in nearby Revere and involved two trains that had left Marblehead. All four trains were operated by the Boston and Maine Railroad.

The injured were screaming and the uninjured were climbing out of windows to get to safety, Frazier said. "It was snowing hard. There was no fire. The first Budd car was split right down the middle. It was terrible." The trains collided on an elevated roadbed running through a residential area. The scene was about two miles north of the main Swampscott railroad station.

Maybe-Fateful Ike Press Parley Called Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (U) — The White House announced today that President Eisenhower definitely will hold a news conference at 7:30 a.m. PST tomorrow.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty refused to say whether the President would take the occasion tomorrow to announce his second term intentions.

Top Republicans expected the chief executive to make his announcement at the conference tomorrow, but Hagerty did nothing to support their expectations.

City Hunts North Link to Create 1-Way Streets

City Manager Robert W. Peterson is attempting to obtain rights-of-way at the north end of town between Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive so the two streets can each carry one way traffic.

In a preliminary discussion yesterday at the city council's luncheon information meeting, use of San Rafael Road as a 100-foot wide connector was considered. Its course is identical with the northern city line. Peterson said its use would be impractical because it runs at right angle to both streets, and the state recommended a right-of-way that angles slightly, not sharply.

Peterson said the recommendation from the State Highway engineer Moore is for acquisition of property angling off from Indian just north of Vista Chico.

The program then would place all southbound traffic using Highway 111 onto Palm Canyon Drive, and all northbound traffic using Indian Avenue across the proposed connector onto Highway 111.

Peterson said the acquisition program has not advanced to the stage where either specific site purchase, or abandonment of the plan, is indicated.

John Morgan Named Deputy D.A. for Village

John Morgan, who has been with District Attorney William Mackey's office in Riverside for two years, has been named deputy district attorney for the Palm Springs area, with an office in the Palm Springs city offices.

The office was recently created by the county supervisors, at the request of Mackey, Police Chief August G. Kettman, City Manager R. W. Peterson, and Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, foreman of the 1955 Grand Jury.

At the same time, Mackey disclosed that Lloyd Boller, a veteran of nine years with his office, has been assigned as investigator to the Coachella and Palo Verde Valleys, with headquarters in Deputy District Attorney Richard Marsh's office in Indio.

Morgan, 30 years of age, was born in Long Beach and attended high school and junior college in Bakersfield. He was graduated from Stanford in 1950, and from the Stanford Law School in 1953.

He is a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army, and was wounded while in the European Theater.

He joined the Riverside county district attorney's office in May of 1954.

He, his wife and their 20-month-old son will move here as soon as living accommodations can be found.

Concerning Morgan, Mackey said that he "is well grounded in criminal law, and has had experience in trying difficult cases. I believe he can handle the affairs of the office serving Palm Springs and this area in a very efficient and thorough manner."

Boller, first police chief of Palm Springs, from 1936 to 1939, has had extensive experience in law enforcement and investigation.

American Legion Post Initiates

Six new members were initiated into the Owen Coffman Post No. 519, American Legion, following a pot-luck dinner session held jointly with the Auxiliary.

Officiating at the ceremony was the initiation team of the Coachella Valley 40 et 8, consisting of John Connell, J. J. Joyce, George Griffin, Henry Menard, George Boldin and Bill Rechten.

Members initiated were Charles Hargraves, Howard Dalby, Mike Arsulich, Arthur T. Gray, Stanley Ehlers and Nello DiGrandi.

Race Fans Here Do a Slow-Down on Way Home

Sports car racing fans who watched high speed action over the weekend saw and experienced exactly the opposite when returning home Sunday afternoon and evening.

A four-hour traffic snarl at the two-lane Banning bottleneck kept cars moving at a snail's pace, and backed them up bumper to bumper from the east Banning city limits to past Cabazon.

The new freeway through Banning, now under construction, is expected to eliminate future bottlenecks when completed.

New York City Puts Quiet on Car Horns Tonight

NEW YORK (U) — New York City sets out at midnight tonight to restore some peace and quiet to its noisy streets with a drive against horn tooting.

The drive comes to a silent climax in two weeks when it becomes a fine or jail offense to nudge the car in front of you with your horn.

An anti-horn honking committee thinks the whole program will silence New York just as a similar campaign eliminated noise from the streets of Paris some years ago.

Submarine Warfare is Topic of Reich Talk to Optimists

The modern concept of submarine warfare will be the subject of a talk by Herman Reich at the Wednesday luncheon of the Palm Springs Optimist Club at the Ranch Club.

The recent launching of the atomic submarine Nautilus has revolutionized the whole idea of underwater military operations and Reich who holds the rank of captain in the U. S. Naval Reserve, will discuss this phase.

Reich recently sold his Village

Market in Palm Springs to enter politics as a candidate for Congress representing this district, but his talk Wednesday will have no political significance. He will speak from a background of experience and up-to-date knowledge.

He is serving one evening each week as director, Naval Reserve Officers' School located at Chaffey College, Ontario. This activity is responsible for Naval Reserve Officer training in San Bernardino, Riverside, and parts of Orange and Los Angeles counties.

Village Girl, 18 Escapes Armed Kidnap Attempt

An 18-year-old Village Theater employee last night scared away a man intent on armed kidnapping when she screamed loudly.

Anina Murphy was walking home with two girl friends at about 11:30 p.m. She lives at 140 North Calle Encelia.

The three girls were walking east on Andreas Road just east of Indian Avenue when they saw a young man in a two-tone green DeSoto drive past them, heading west.

As they turned onto Calle Encelia, the car apparently turned around to follow them.

About a half block from Anina's home, her girl friends left her, and she started home alone.

The car rounded the corner, and slowly pulled along side her. The man, who Miss Murphy described as having dark hair, told her to get in the car, adding, "I've got a gun."

The girl screamed, and the car sped away. He reached a dead end, and turning around, sped past Anina and out of sight. Police are searching for him.

Multiple Listing Service Moves Over $3 Million

Listings in the Multiple Listing Service are now over three million dollars, according to an announcement made today by Mike Jekyll, Realtor and chairman of the Multiple Listing Committee.

According to Jekyll, Multiple Listing Service has its purpose to stimulate and facilitate the transaction of more business between member Realtors as it is a modern method of exchanging listings for the sale or exchange of property.

This makes possible a better service to the public as well as to the buyer and seller by creating a wider and more active market, Jekyll said.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

By EARL R. OBERN Real Estate Editor

Well, here I am on the deadline of my column and I don't have any news to print although a lot of big things happened this last week. The Realtors were so busy with their activities and deals that they did not give me anything to write about ... maybe next week will be better.

So, I would like to write about Palm Springs and this desert area and why it is the most wonderful place to live in the world. I was visiting with an owner of a large proposed project for Palm Springs today and he told me why he decided to proceed with his development here.

His reasons were those that most of us have ... an ideal healthy climate ... cordial, warm-hearted friendly people on every hand ... its nearness to a big city ... but far away enough to be without smog, hustle and bustle, and the pressure of making the almighty dollar.

YES, I SAID to him, I agree, for I have lived in California most of my life, and moved to Hawaii for six months thinking that it was the one place to live ... I have been in every state and larger city in our good old USA, Mexico, Canada and this is IT with a capital I.

And just how do I know this is the ONE place to live ... well, I just feel it down to the tips of my toes every day, every hour, every night, but I am most grateful for the glorious sun coming up in the morning, with its golden gleam putting its finger on my freckled brow.

TALKED TO THE new Honorary Life member of the Palm Springs Realty Board, C. C. Covey and his wife, the other night at Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association meeting. C. C. told me some interesting things about his life. He came to California when he was 2½ years old and spent most of his life (3 years in Pasadena) in the post office service, in fact from 1907 to 1914 he was state president of the U. S. A. P. O. C.

He has been in the real estate business since 1941, and is credited with getting the overpass on 99 at North Palm Springs with the help of many other organizations and people.

COVEY is a charter member of the Rotary Club of Desert Hot Springs and has never missed a meeting—he is now a senior active member. He and Mrs. Covey always had a burning desire to help crippled children and now have a clinic there but are working on a real hospital, the name of which is the Angel View Crippled Children's Hospital — there are now 21 cases in the clinic but they need a larger building.

Audrey Wardman gave 26 acres for the hospital where the water from the well on the property is 138 degrees.

More legroom front and rear! More hiproom front and rear! Wider doors! Greater steering wheel clearance! More rear deck space! New '56 Dodge is bigger inside and out! Looks bigger! Rides bigger! Is bigger!

Price it against small cars in the "low price field"

Car "C"	Dodge is 14.5 inches longer
Car "F"	Dodge is 13.5 inches longer

Yet Dodge costs only $4.11 a month more (less than 95 cents a week!)

Heavy Industry A Mistake

Permitting heavy industry to get a foothold anywhere in the Coachella Valley would be such an obvious mistake that it doesn't seem possible such a thing would be allowed to happen. Let's not be caught napping; it not only could happen but it WILL happen if our resort and agricultural interests are not constantly on guard. This menace to the brilliant future of the Coachella Valley will become greater and greater as the area grows because of the constant influx of opportunists who care not about the Valley's future.

In the light of what has happened at our very doorstep, permitting industry to move into this recreational-agricultural paradise would be the height of stupidity. The damage which industrial smog has caused to the tourist business and crops in a wide area around Los Angeles runs into billions. Once the most aggressive city in the nation when it came to attracting industry, Los Angeles is having to refuse permits to industries that pollute the air.

Some sections of Riverside county want industry, even heavy industry. It is needed to create economic prosperity through payrolls. There are places where industry will do little harm. But when it comes to the Coachella Valley the problem is a very different one. This fact must be recognized by everyone in the county — and particular our county officials.

The Coachella Valley is only 40 miles long and not over 10 miles wide in most places. It is surrounded by mountains on all sides. It wouldn't take very much industrial smoke to cast a pall over the whole Valley.

Almost 100 per cent of the income of this area is derived from two sources: tourist business and agricultural crops. Both are incompatible with industry. Recreation and agriculture depend for success upon fresh air, sunshine and pure water. The tourists, it is estimated, spent $40,000,000 in the Coachella Valley last year; agricultural crops brought another $28,500,000. The damage of industry to crops through air and water pollution is an established fact. That vacationists and winter residents of the Valley are attracted by its pure air and sunshine, goes without saying. The damage of industrial smoke, water pollution and unsightly industries to the resort and farming business would be disastrous.

The problem is by no means peculiar to this Valley. It is being faced by almost every resort and agricultural section of the nation. Southern Florida is right in the throes of it. Ft. Lauderdale awoke one morning last Summer to find a cement plant about to be built in the port area only a few miles from the heart of town. The public rose up and stopped it. Other industries are being sought by some elements. Says the Ft. Lauderdale News:

"It is an unhappy compromise, this business of seeking to maintain a world-wide reputation as a luxury vacation resort area, while at the same time working to attract new sources of employment for ex-tourists who have come to stay permanently. When a large industrial plant is finally accepted locally it will have a marked effect on certain property values, and on the economy in general. No plant of any conceivable size, however, could be expected to affect the economy anywhere near as much as the steadily growing tourist industry has over the years."

Great caution must be taken in the type of industries that are permitted to locate in Coachella Valley whether in the Indio area, the agriculture center, or near Palm Springs, the resort center. Allowing the ore reduction plant to lease near Thousand Palms was a dangerous precedent. It can do a lot more harm than good, even though it may seem harmless and the permit is for only five years. The Coachella Valley Planning Committee made a mistake when it approved entrance of this industry into the resort area.

In the February issue of Desert Magazine, Editor Randall Henderson had this to say on the subject:

"Americans of this generation have grown up with the idea—if they stopped to think of it at all—that pure air and good water are inexhaustible resources. Every chamber of commerce was seeking more industry—and any industry which brought a jingle to the cash register was good."

"Unfortunately, that is no longer true. The pressure of increasing population and our growing dependence on the gadgets of factory production have brought us to the time—whether we like it or not—when we must evaluate our air and water resources and determine whether or not they are to be conserved. Many years too late, Los Angeles has come to this realization—and recently announced that future applications for industrial sites would be screened as for their use of water and their potential for air pollution."

"In a little valley, rimmed in with mountains as we are here in Coachella, we cannot have both heavy industry, and a prosperous resort and agricultural economy. It will not take much heavy industry to give this valley a perpetual overcast of smudge — and if that time comes we will have killed the goose that laid the golden egg — for agriculture cannot thrive in such an atmosphere, and the winter tourist business will go to . . . places like Wickenburg and Sedona in Arizona, where foresighted community leaders have taken a firm stand against any industry which pollutes the air or contaminates the soil."

It might be a good idea if the Coachella Valley Planning Committee would hold some public hearings on this subject, find out the sentiment of the people and establish a firm policy with regard to industrial encroachment in the Coachella Valley.

In spite of the opposition Palm Springs residents and city government exerted for several years against the establishment of a cement mill nearby, it was only by a stroke of good luck that we were able to keep it out. That shows how much help we can expect under present circumstances. It shows also the need of a well planned educational program on this subject throughout the entire county including the Coachella Valley itself.

Well, It Has Rained
(Oroville Mercury)

With state leaders swinging over to the belief that the Feather River Project, including Oroville Dam, should be built on a cash rather than a credit basis, Assemblyman Francis C. Lindsay suggests that the state's "rainy-day" fund be used. That fund consists of $75 million.

Well, it has rained! We have held that fund inviolate for some ten years waiting for the rainy day. Is there anyone who wants to wait for more devastating rains?

With a small portion of the $75 million the Oroville and San Luis dam and reservoir sites could be purchased. With the remainder a start could be made on the San Luis Dam and on relocation of the railroad line and the state highway that must be moved before Oroville Dam covers them with water.

Let's use the rainy-day fund, a hold-over from Governor Warren's days when revenues exceeded state expenditures. That money isn't doing any good in the banks. The emergency has arrived. Until Oroville Dam is built the people of Yuba City and Marysville cannot live in safety. They can't even sell out and move away, for who will buy under the circumstances?

Let's use the rainy-day fund as insurance against the next rainy season when equal devastation may be visited on the flood sufferers. After all, our years of heavy rains come in groups.

Now — How About Those Campaign Contributions?

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

There are two bottlenecks on the highway between here and the coast which are now being erased by construction crews.

Never was the need for these two projects better demonstrated than Sunday night when thousands of motorists who had spent the weekend in Palm Springs headed for home.

We all know the Banning situation where a by-pass is now being built. But it hit its peak for traffic jams Sunday.

They even suspended the signal at the main corner and put police at the intersections to give through traffic the nod. But, at that, they were backed up from Banning to beyond Cabazon.

AND AT COLTON, where two main line railroads cross the highway at grade, they also had a terrific traffic tie-up.

Just as one long southbound freight cleared the crossing, a longer northbound train started across.

That put more impatient west-bound drivers on Colton's main street than had ever been there before.

Those freeways in Banning and Colton are certainly top needs.

THIS IS A STORY I heard in talking with peace officers in a neighboring county.

In the argot of drug pushers, it seems, marijuana is designated as "tea." An investigator, seeking evidence to trap a narcotic ring, spent some time gaining the confidence of drug suspects. Finally he believed he was in.

Asked a chief suspect if he could buy some "tea." After another week or two of waiting while the ring looked him over more, he finally got his packet of "tea."

Elated, he sent it to the crime lab for analysis. And the report came back. IT WAS TEA.

THE SAME PEACE officer told me another one—this I find rather hard to believe. It concerned a man who came to court to have his name—Frank Smellbaad—legally changed.

"What name have you in mind?" asked the judge.

"George Smellbaad," he said. "I don't like the name Frank."

It was 4 p.m., Saturday, February 24, when the mailman arrived. He left, among other items, three important looking envelopes. Two to Mrs. G., one for me.

They were appeals to support certain bond issues—and the election had been ten days before.

Another, to Mrs. G., was a notice from a church group of an important meeting.

"Be sure to be there," it exhorted. "On Thursday, February 16."

She didn't make it—not being able to backtrack eight days.

THE WAY the wind has been blowing through the Pass for the past few days reminds me of a story told me as the solemn truth by a Villager a few years ago.

He said he ran out of gas near the depot on Highway 111 en route home.

There being no other cars on the road at the time, he swears he just opened the front doors on his car and sailed around Whitewater Point to a gas station.

Dr. Benjamin Goldberg

TREATMENT BY ULTRASOUND

Ultrasound is "silent sound." It has become one of the wonders of industry. Holes can be drilled in metal, square or round, with this ultrasound. The cutting tool no longer has to be harder than the substance it is cutting. With ultrasound a tool of ordinary steel, acting with an abrasive, can cut the hardest materials that only a diamond wheel would tackle before. Moreover, with ultrasound, the job may be completed in a fraction of the time required by the older methods.

Ultrasound also has important medical uses, and the scope of these uses is increasing. What is ultrasound? The human ear can perceive vibrations of from 20 to 17,000 per second; ultrasound has a frequency extending from 20,000 per second upwards to a million or more oscillations per second.

An ultrasound machine consists of a high frequency generator similar to a short wave machine. It thus produces sound waves of a frequency of about 1,000,000 oscillations per second.

THE HIGH FREQUENCY current is applied through a cable to a quartz crystal encased in a shielded applicator known as the "sound head" which can be held in contact with parts of the body. Thus, the sound waves are transmitted into mechanical vibrations which in turn produce more sound waves. These will not pass through air, and require a coupling or contact medium of oil or water between the face of the "sound head" and the skin over the part of the body treated.

Temperature rises occur in the underlying tissue substance, varying in its height due to the different densities of muscle and interposed tendons and bones. This heat is said to be the result of the mechanical friction created by the interruption of these sound waves and the tissues substance. In addition, there are mechanical, chemical and biological effects. The mechanical effects are similar to those obtained in massage in a minute form.

ULTRASOUND also increases the speed of oxidation in the tissues, and thus reduces swelling and lymphatic stagnation, particularly in the region of nerve roots. It thus reduces or relieves pain. Its chief value is in such conditions as bursitis, periarthritis, fibrositis, and in other words, inflammation of muscles, tendons and bursal sacs, such as are seen following injury or in arthritic processes.

It should not be used in the presence of acute infectious processes of the tissues, or in malignancy, or in markedly impaired circulation or poor sensation.

In reality, it should be an adjunct to other forms of treatment, and thus can give additional benefit and more relief from the pains of the above mentioned conditions.

EARL WILSON:

'Boneheads, Not Fatheads'

NEW YORK—Miss Kim Stanley, the brilliant TV and stage actress, wishes to apologize to the Broadway drama critics whom she purportedly called "fatheads."

"I didn't say 'fatheads—I said 'boneheads,'" she emphatically told me . . . so it's all right now, you critics, you can relax . . . you're only boneheads.

"To me," explained Miss Stanley, "a fathead is somebody who has so much fat around the head he can't think."

"But a bonehead is somebody who is, as they say down in my part of the country, 'set in his ways'."

Her part of the country is San Antonio, Houston, Austin and Albuquerque. Blond Miss Stanley explained "the famous boo-boo" while taking time off from a rehearsal for a TV show to be done on "Playwrights 56." The play is "Flight," written by Horton Foote of Texas, with his usual setting—about 40 miles from Houston—and it'll be directed by the celebrated Fred Coe.

"Would you consider it a compliment to be called a bonehead?" I asked Miss Stanley.

"Of course not! In my lexicon a bonehead takes a narrow point of view. I think the critics should not just be reporters saying 'I thought it was a lousy play'—but have an interest in the theater. Many interesting plays that the public would enjoy are not helped by the critics as they should be."

"Once the critics like an actor, they seem to go with him and blame whatever faults there are on the playwright—but I don't think they always know the difference," Kim said.

"Take myself. They act as though I get up on the stage and make up the words, and give very little credit to the playwright."

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Good News for Air Force

WASHINGTON—The Air Force is headed for some good news. The powerful House Appropriations Committee is set to approve a big increase in the Air Force's new budget to meet the growing menace of Russian superiority in planes and guided missiles.

These additional funds may be as much as $1,500,000,000. That would give the Air Force an $18,000,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The budget proposed by President Eisenhower is $16,500,000,000. As reported in this column last week, former Assistant Air Force Secretary Trevor Gardner told a private meeting of the Appropriations Committee that General Nathan Twining had recommended $18,000,000,000, but was overruled.

Foremost among the items cut out of the Air Chief of Staff's budget were $316,000,000 for expanded research and $200,000,000 for intensified guided missile development.

Gardner, who quit over these slashes, attributed them to Defense Secretary Charles Wilson.

This factor is apparently playing an important role in the inner councils of the Appropriations Committee. The Committee has had several stormy sessions with Wilson, at one of which he was caustically criticized by both Republicans and Democrats for "evasiveness" and "passing the buck to subordinates."

Representative Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman, who was especially sharp in berating Wilson, is leading the backstage drive in the Committee to increase the Air Force's budget.

Significantly, he has the backing of the two Democratic chiefs of the House—Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., and Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass.

They warmly assured Cannon of that when he told them he had notified his Committee of being in agreement with Senator Richard Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, that the Air Force should be given an additional $1,500,000,000.

"I informed the Committee," related Cannon, "that I feel it has been definitely established the Air Force needs a lot more money than the President and Secretary Wilson proposed in their budget. Both our bomber and guided missile programs must be greatly speeded up if we are not to be surpassed by Russia."

"How did the members of the Committee react to that?" asked McCormack.

"I heard no objections, and most of them said they agreed with me," replied Cannon.

"We are with you all the way," said Rayburn. "You can count on us to back you to the limit in both the Committee and in the House as a whole."

The Sun on the Desert

By FRED C. WEIGEL

It has been questioned many times as to how graphic a newsman should get in his descriptions of violent death on the highways? Many believe that the more horribly it is written, the more significance it will have for readers; while others say that there is no place for such reporting in the nation's press.

Within the past few months I have had impressed on my mind, more than anytime before in my life, the unnecessary of highway deaths. I am 34, and having been brought up in a newspaper man's family I have seen violence, disaster, and death in just about every form. Newsmen, like police officers and ambulance drivers, build an immunity to death, but seldom conquer the nausea of seeing, photographing and reporting highway accidents.

High speed, recklessness, drunk driving and exhaustion are the weapons of violent death or crippling injuries on the highways. Accidents are not caused by "acts of God," but rainstorms, dust, broken steering column or sudden darkness are accessories to one or more basic reasons.

Highway 111 from the turnoff at Highway 60-70-99, through Palm Springs, Tramview, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert has, in the past couple of years, become a "race track," and civic organizations are doing everything in their power to get policing and new speed laws into effect to lower the accident rate on this highway.

So far, with just two months of 1956 having passed, this county has listed 18 deaths due to automobile crashes.

Cathedral City organizations are trying to decide if a special service district will allow them to start a police protection unit, and are making plans to set up signs throughout the community.

Tramview has already started a campaign to collect money for signs and is attempting to get pedestrian crosswalks marked off on the highway.

Palm Desert, through the Palm Desert Sentinels, has twice held meetings with highway and law enforcement officials in an attempt to get something done to bring a halt to accidents in their area.

BUT WITH THESE communities working to get something done that might save lives, accidents are being recorded daily in the areas.

On Sunday night, a man was killed on Highway 99 when he skidded through a stop sign and was hit by a truck, and in Palm Desert two men went to the hospital when their sports-car went off the highway—California Highway Patrol officers said they were speeding when they lost control of the car.

Many times it is not necessary that you endanger others on the highway, and if drivers persist in speeding they themselves are the most likely victims.

Though I may stand alone on this thought, I believe that newspapers should in every case possible show the horrible finality of violent death on the highways, should pictorially explain in the editorial columns the scene of the disaster, and when the public tires of it they may realize that by driving more carefully they automatically stop the publication of these "gruesome scenes."

Until next week.

Wishing Well Pennies Go to March of Dimes

Wishing well pennies add up to dollars and those collected in the Deep Well dining room for the March of Dimes amounted to $93.92, Santos de Jesus announced today.

Santos said that when he mailed a check for that amount to the March of Dimes, he sent a duplicate to Deep Well owner, Y. D. Markson, who promptly matched the amount raised, sending his personal check to the March of Dimes.

New Opera at Redlands on March 12-13

"The Necklace," a new opera by Wayne R. Bohrnstedt, will be the spring production of the Opera workshop of the University of Redlands School of Music, March 12 and 13.

A story of tragedy brought into the lives of a wealthy middle western family, through an heirloom necklace, is told in this chamber opera. The music, written in the modern idiom, accents the mood of the story, and is fluid, powerful, and dramatic.

One of the many premiere programs scheduled for the spring semester by Dr. Leslie P. Spelman, head of the School of Music at the University of Redlands, "The Necklace" will be presented by a different cast of students each performance.

Visitors from Nine States Attend Picnic

The spacious green lawn of the Lehman ranch near the Bar-B-H, was the scene on Friday of a delightful picnic when long-time winter visitors from nine states were honored by Carter McCarthy of Port Washington, Wisconsin, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Castellanos of Detroit.

Steaks and chops were served amidst the colorful setting while entertainment was provided by the perennial favorites Johnny and Tami Boyle. Jack Klorh contributed his humorous "old time medicine man routine."

The affair was predominately a family gathering with the following families in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. William Gallon of Long Island and their daughter, Mrs. A. C. Weeks of Garden City, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spitzer of Toledo, Ohio, and their daughter Nancy Sheppard also of Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Prentice of Yakima, Washington, and their daughter Helen Prentice; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Britt of Grosse Pointe, Michigan; Mrs. Paul Smith of Minneapolis (Mrs. Smith is the mother of Harriet Netcher Little); Tom Hamilton of Pittsburgh; Mrs. E. A. Casey and her daughter Marguerite Casey of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Casey of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. G. F. Sheenan of Seattle (Mrs. Casey's sister); George Ritter of Palm Springs.

Have Houseguests

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendrickson of 1460 Fiesta Road, have been entertaining houseguests for the past week, Mrs. Hendrickson's cousins Mr. and Mrs. Albert Amidon of Pueblo, Colorado. Also visiting here were Mrs. J. C. Miller of Santa Monica and Mrs. Lorrell Williams of Los Angeles.

Traditional Purim Ball Big Success

The crowning of Mary Lou Ruskin as Queen Esther highlighted the Purim Ball at the Jewish Community Center Saturday night. Dave Barry, one of the headline acts at the Chi Chi, placed the crown upon the head of the pretty little brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Ruskin. Bernice Kerzin was runner-up for Queen.

The hall was festively decorated with balloons and fringed scallops, with hand-painted masks of Queen Esther and King Ahasuerus adorning the walls. The centuries-old Purim celebration stems from Queen Esther's rescue of her people and the Ball was in the gay and jubilant tradition of celebrations that date back before the time of Christ.

Max Grone acted as master of ceremonies, presenting the singer Marcia Sullivan, who sang a Jewish folk song, "You Are Love" from Showboat, and an Israeli love song, Peg Rashall sang "One Alone" and "Ave Maria."

Booths for drinks and traditional foods, and a fortune telling booth attracted many customers and there was dancing to the smooth music of Mike Ortiz and his orchestra.

Mrs. Saul Ruskin was general chairman for the highly successful affair. Working with her were Abe Schwartz and Mrs. Al Lehfeld, who headed the ticket committee.

Lymans Visit the Yaylians

Mrs. Ed Lyman Sr. of Queens Valley, Long Island, New York, joined her son, Ed Lyman Jr., here and both are houseguests of Rev. and Mrs. Deran Yaylian. Ed Lyman Jr. was here to sing for the Date Festival, just closed in Indio. Formerly a Marine stationed at Twentynine Palms, he was a member of the Community church choir. His outstanding voice gained recognition through charge from the Marine Corps he out this area and after his discharge traveled to South America as a lead singer with a pagament. Mrs. Lyman Sr. will leave the middle of the week but her son will remain to do solo work in the "Seven Last Words" on Good Friday and Easter Sunday services with the Community Church choir.

Noted Stylist

Mrs. Marcia Parker of New York is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Silverstein at the Villa Hermosa. Mrs. Parker is the noted stylist for teen-age fashions, and is vice president of Junior House, in Milwaukee.

The McRorys have an older son, Jimmy, a member of the Air Corps, who is stationed in Mississippi.

Family Here to Celebrate Golden Wedding

A family dinner followed by a theater party at the Palm Springs Playhouse Sunday evening, celebrated the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rich of 221 South Patencia.

The couple, who were married in New York City, started coming to Palm Springs in 1934 and purchased a home here in the 40's. Mr. Rich is a retired garage man.

In the family group which helped celebrate the anniversary, were their son Larry Rich, who lives with them; a daughter Lynne and her husband Maury Adler of Glen Air, California; a son, Harvey Rich and his wife, Jane, of San Gabriel. All of the out-of-towners were weekend guests here.

Hawaii Comes to the Desert

Three hundred and seventy five people had an afternoon in Hawaii Saturday . . . at the Oasis Hotel. The beautiful setting, with the mountains looming in the background, and the sun shining down warmly on the palm trees in the terrace, plus the songs and dances food and fashions of the Islands was sheer magic.

The dining room was filled and tables were set up around the pool and on the terrace. On a stage on the sun-plashed terrace, George Kainapau and his musicians played and sang, and Tani Marsh did the graceful island dances.

Kainapau, long a favorite with Palm Springs audiences, wove a spell with his beautiful songs, which included the "Wedding Song." He is at the Huntington-Sheraton in Pasadena this year and this is his only scheduled appearance in Palm Springs.

Adding to the entertainment, Otto Allgower joined Tani Marsh in a Tahitian dance, and Hank Gogerty did his famous "Cock-Eyed Mayor" dance.

The luau luncheon menu, supervised by Trader Vic, included fresh Hawaiian pineapple, chicken polynesian en cocoon shell, baked banana maraschino, fried Philippine rice, and individual Tahitian bombe.

Bill Adrian commented the fascinating style show which presented Nani of Hawaii fashions from Stan Jaloff's Beachcomber shops. Among the models were several Adrian teen age models, Barbara Foster and her group of models were also in the show which was a long procession of colorful adaptations of island clothes for resort wear.

There was a two-piece swimmer in brown pineapple tapa print, with matching jacket and cap, and a sarong dress in the same pattern with matching wrap skirt and Lau-Hola hat. Pedal pushers and swim suits and family outfits, silken sheaths and sarongs, paraded through the gardens and into the dining room.

Pam Mix modeled a Siamese dress, with a hand screened plumeria print, and chopsticks in her hair. Barbara Foster wore a similar one in pure silk shantung patterned with the exotic plumeria flowers. Dozens of other exciting Hawaiian wear were shown.

Adrian introduced Stan Jaloff, who sponsored the show, and Dewey Metzger, Oasis manager. This was one of the most beautiful shows staged here this season and proved so popular that it was a sell-out almost a week ahead of time. The entire program and show was arranged by Stan Jaloff, with Oasis Hotel presenting the delightful luncheon.

Newcomers

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis Heider of Santa Ana have been in the Village frequently making arrangements to settle here, as he is going into business here next month.

The Heiders have two children, Joseph Francis Jr., 2, and Linda Jo, eight months.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

A delightful innovation . . . the first of a series of Sunday tea dances . . . was held at La Paz on Sunday afternoon . . . The court yard, with lights in the orange trees, made a charming setting . . . and the dancers watched the first stars appear in the sky . . . Pat Barbara and his orchestra played for the dancing . . . and Mrs. Noble Banks and Miss Muriel Fulton presided at the tea table . . . In the tea dansant crowd were . . . Kay and Dolph Obergfel, Janice Chiquoine (just returned from Dallas), Enor and Jack French . . .

Among others were the P. A. Staleys, Homer Hiltons . . . Martin Wades, Charles Irwins, Marguerite Casey . . . Lillian McClure, Pearl McManus, Joan McManus . . . Ruby and Ed Fallgren, B. J. and Belmont Sanchez . . . Fran Blish and her sister Mrs. Thornton . . . and many more . . . The La Paz management announced today that they have decided to keep the tea dances invitational . . . and that they will become a regular Sunday event . . .

The Ranch Club is carrying on its long tradition as a fun spot and was pleasantly filled with diners and dancers Friday evening . . . when we joined Joyce and Noel Clarke for dinner . . .

It was an interesting group . . . Ginny Simms (this was her first night out after the mumps) with Dr. Al Huenergardt . . . Zasu Pitts, who is here to play the lead in "Solid Gold Cadillac" which opens tonight at the Playhouse . . . And a little concerned about center staging which is new to her . . . I told her not to worry as the audience is going to love her . . . Also with us were Joan Winchell (down for a hit and run weekend . . . You know, 20 minutes here and 20 minutes there . . . and this gal gets restless) and her friend Fran Jones of CBS . . .

The John Haskells (Dorothy Manners) dropped in with Nancy Sinatra . . . and I spoke with Col. Ray Shelby who was doing the town with Fred Halliday . . . The Roy Randolphs were at the table next to ours . . . and Esther and Jim Hammond were with Jack Smith, Manuel Alvarez and MGM writer Leonard Spigelgass . . .

At other tables were Win and Charles Becker, with Win's sister Mrs. Kenton Cravens . . . The S. P. Manasses were with another group . . . The Jim Warmuth's, Richard Pauls and Dan Grant-ham were helping Ruth Barnes (Bank of America escrow officer) celebrate her birthday . . .

After dinner our party moved into the other room . . . and we were soon surrounded by musicians and singers . . . Duke Mitchell sang for us . . . and adorable Clessa Williams . . . Hal White and his orchestra played and sang for us . . . and Ginny Simms sang "Sunny Side of the Street" for "Miss Zar" as she calls Zasu Pitts . . . Joining us was that TV personality Florence Halop (she's "Mama Bronson" on the "Meet Millie" show) . . . This is the kind of gaily it is difficult to tear yourself away from . . . and we did it reluctantly . . .

Mr. and Mrs. George Reuland of Independence, Missouri, are expected to arrive at Smoke Tree Ranch this week for a vacation. He is vice president of Allis Chalmers, in charge of the Independence works.

At the same time, two other families, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Newbegin of Portland (president of the R. M. Wade Company), and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Megram of Harvard Illinois (president of Starline Inc.) will meet their friends the Reulands here to spend their vacations together.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Arthur and Mr. and Mrs. William Schwartz of Los Angeles arrived at Smoke Tree Ranch for a week's stay.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Patent Office

NEW YORK (AP) — With spring training under way, the Pittsburgh Pirates probably are hoping that they don't win too many games in the Grapefruit League this spring.

The reason is rather obvious. Because, as the new National League Green Book points out, the forlorn freebooters have been the champions of the citrus circuit the past two seasons — and finished in the pennant basement both times for a record of four straight years in the cellar.

THERE HAS BEEN some criticism of big Don Newcombe's flinging fortitude from time to time, but the Dodgers pitcher was second to Robin Roberts in the low-run complete games last season. Roberts had 15 of those one and two-run efforts while Newcombe had 12, half of those being one-run affairs to lead the league in that section.

If you wonder why they called Frank Chance the "peerless leader," he led all National League managers in all-time winning percentage for those who managed over 1,000 games. His mark was a nifty .665. John McGraw managed more games than any other manager in the league, a total of 4,683.

WHO WAS THE composite all-time champion of the National League on a percentage basis? Why Hartford, of course. In two years it won at a .619 clip back even before the Gay Nineties. Brooklyn, the current scourge, stands no better than fifth with a .543 winning percentage.

Milwaukee set the only attendance mark established in 1955. That came April 12 against Cincinnati when 43,640 turned out. . . . and it may come as something of a shock that the fourth place Phillies were the night time champions of the league with 41-37. And if they played all their games at home under the lights they could well win the flag. Their record there was 30-18.

Duke Snider has knocked in 784 runs in seven years, a 112 average. But last year was his first undisputed title in that department. Del Ennis of the Phils led his own club for the ninth time in RBI's and needs only to do it once more to tie Mel Ott's National League record. Stan Musial led the Cards for the eighth time and held on to the active lifetime batting lead with an overall .342.

GILD HODGES of the Dodgers hit his 11th grand slam homer in 1955 and now needs only one to tie Rogers Hornsby and Ralph Kiner in this department. Concerning four baggers, the Polo Grounds long has been classified as an oriental park stepped in "Chinese" homers. But 204 were slammed at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field, 193 were smote at Cincinnati and "only" 186 at the Polo Grounds as National Leaguers connected for an all-time record total of 1,263.

Willie Mays probably would swap the Polo Grounds for the friendly confines of Ebbets Field. He wallowed only 22 in 77 games at home and nine in 11 games at Brooklyn. . . . Milwaukee's pitching staff, incidentally, gave up the fewest home runs, 138, while Brooklyn was seventh with 168 against the Cardinals' eight place total of 185 "gofer" balls.

TOUGHEST MAN to strike out was Giant Don Mueller, who fanned only 12 times in 147 games. And the toughest man to double up was Milwaukee's Bill Burton, whose speed allowed him to hit into double plays only twice in 149 games.

And, if you think Musial is "washed up," take heed that this season he will move up to the all-time third place in doubles and runs batted in, fourth in total bases, needs only 26 homers to place second behind Mel Ott — and leads 'em all in slugging percentage.

No Glossless Ball

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The new glossless baseball is not expected to be used in regular American League games this season. "They will be used in exhibition games but the factory cannot supply enough for the season," Earl Hiligan, press chief of the league, declared today.

Indians Win Over Arabs in Net Play

Palm Springs High School tennis team wallpopped Coachella high, 5-2, in a seven-game non-league opener yesterday on the local courts.

The Indians, coached by Alex Hammond, will enter Riverside county league play two weeks hence as defending champions.

Of last year's 10-man squad, seven lettermen returned to the court yesterday, and showed an impressive array of strength despite a lack of recent practice.

Two doubles and five singles matches were graded as to the rank of the individual player, i.e., top seeded netters played in first single and double matches on both teams, second seeded played in second single or double matches — as follows:

First doubles: Blackstone-Williams (P. S.) def. Weber-Crow 6-1, 6-4.

Second doubles: Lang-McFarland (P. S.) def. Jaramillo-Smith (C) 6-1, 6-0.

First singles: Waters (P. S.) def. Malone (C) 6-1, 6-0.

Second singles: Grim (P. S.) def. Rector (C) 6-3, 6-1.

Third singles: Johnson (C) def. Beck (P. S.) 6-4, 6-1.

Fourth singles: Hammond (P. S.) def. Icarke (C) 6-1, 6-0.

Fifth singles: Nagata (C) def. Simon (P. S.) 6-1, 6-1.

No Final Word on Husky Coach

SEATTLE (AP) — George Briggs, University of Washington athletic director, was noncommittal today on rumors Darrell Royal would be named the new head football coach at Washington.

Royal, 31, coached at Mississippi State in 1954 and 1955 and finished with a 6-4 mark each year. He was an outstanding quarterback for the University of Oklahoma under Bud Wilkinson and later played and coached professional football in Canada.

The coaching job at Washington opened Jan. 21 when Harvey Cassill, former athletic director, fired Johnny Cherberg who had been the target of a so-called "player rebellion."

Cassill later resigned under alumni fire for his handling of the Cherberg firing. The controversy also revealed the existence of a "slush fund" for Washington gridders administered by R. C. Torchy Torrance, a prominent recruiter of football talent for the school.

Host Citrus High in First Title Round

Redmen Underdogs
Against Defending
Southern Champs

By DAVID FISHER
Ralph Watt's Palm Springs Cagers, still elated over winning the school's first Riverside County League championship, face a rugged Citrus quintet tonight in the opening round of the California Interscholastic Federation playoffs.

Scene of the important action will be the local gym with 7 p.m. set as starting time.

Citrus, defending Southern C. I. F. titlist, finished second in the tough Tri-County League. The Cougars defeated the first place Puente outfit twice, but were forced to forfeit three of their opening four games because of the use of an ineligible player. The Citrus five, from Azusa, has lost just two preseason tilts.

SPARKING THE COUGARS for the past two seasons has been their jump-shooting guard, Bill Keilner. He has tallied over 800 points in two years of varsity basketball competition and this season led the Tri-County League in scoring.

Also pacing the visitors in this department has been their ace forward Curry Robertson. His all around play has made the Cougars a well-balanced squad, offensively and defensively.

At the center slot Citrus boast six foot five inch, 200-pound Clint Deering. This giant is a fantastic rebounder and will give the Indians' Charles Jordan a battle for control of the backboards.

KEY TO THE SUCCESS of the Palm Springs hoopsters lies in the potency of their one-two punch of Jordan and Mickey Pellum.

Jordan, the local's lengthy center, grabbed scoring honors in the R. C. L. while Pellum took third spot.

Citrus, like Palm Springs, gained most of its victories by outturning the opposition. They play in a large gym and use the fast break unmercifully.

Watt's warriors will play the role of underdog for the first time since the R. C. L. opener against San Jacinto. An overflow crowd is expected to mob the high school gym in hopes of seeing the "prides of the desert" go after their fourteenth straight victory.

STARTING for the Redmen, besides Jordan and Pellum, will be Vic Reyes, Sam Jones, and O. B. Crawford. To give Palm Springs added bench strength for tonight's encounter Indian Mentor Ralph Watt has brought up the stars of the B team, Curtis Roberts and Charles Brown.

Admission this evening is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students with student body cards. The entire affair is under the direction of the C. I. F. and the profits will be split among this sponsoring organization, Citrus high, and Palm Springs high.

Dons to Run Wild in Last Four Games

Woolpert Says No
More Mercy On Staggering Foes

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Phil Woolpert, the University of San Francisco basketball coach who usually takes mercy on staggering opposition, indicated today he may let his Dons run wild against their last four conference opponents.

The reason?

"We're getting ready for the NCAA tournament and can't go into it with a team that only plays half a game," Woolpert said in explaining why the top-ranked Dons poured it on Santa Clara, 80-44, last week. "We have to have the competition and you can't get it in practice games."

Woolpert added that he didn't think the Broncos had "any apology" coming as a result of the smothering.

USF goes after its 48th straight win here tonight when it meets College of the Pacific again in the Dons' friendly Kezar Pavilion. Then comes re-matches with tail-end Pepperdine, second place Loyola of Los Angeles and fourth place St. Mary's in California Basketball Assn. games.

K. C. Jones, the Dons' clutch-playing guard, may not see as much action as he has in the past. Jones is ineligible for the NCAA eliminations and Gene Brown is being groomed for his spot. Woolpert said he might even start Brown in the Pepperdine contest at Long Beach, Calif.

Of the six teams to play, three were rated six goal, two at seven goals and one, Beverly Hills, was a ten goal team.

Final standings were as follows:

1st—Red Diamonds—five wins
2nd—La Jolla—four won, two lost
3rd—San Bernardino—four won, one lost
4th—Shadow Mountain—three won, three lost
5th—Beverly Hills—one won,

BILL "HOPALONG CASSIDY" Boyd, of Palm Desert, and his wife presented the trophies to the winners and runners up.

The games were played through the tournament at both Shadow Mountain Stables polo field and the Palm Springs Polo Grounds.

The Polo Ground polo season is over under its present contractee, Guy Campbell. Shadow Mountain Stables polo season will be interrupted by the outdoor matches at the Desert Air Hotel.

Doodles

By ROGER PRICE

"ANGORA DOUGHNUT"

I certainly hope this Doodle, suggested by Bob Greger of Miami Beach, Florida, doesn't start any trends. If the public ever developed a taste for a ridiculous item like an angora doughnut we're liable to start seeing Cashmere Coffee, All Wool Waffles and Corduroy Cup Cakes. Why before you know it the whole country would be hiccuping lint and people would develop Ulsters of the stomach. I say we must return to the old-fashioned soggy doughnut that just lays in your cup and soaks up the coffee and doesn't look like a beret for a French sheep dog. I hope Bob Greger realizes what a dangerous idea he had and doesn't try to patent it. Or eat it.

SAM SEZ:

DUE to a typographical error in Saturday's paper this ad is re-run and corrected.

HONEST FOLKS! — My last Saturday's ad brought me in so many prospects I can't handle them all alone, and I'm still busy on deals from it, so I won't list anything this week until we clear up the slate. Watch for my next Saturday's ad on my best investments in lots and acreage.

OUR 25 years experience in the Valley helps us choose investments for you which we can turn to a good profit for you. Make "The Desert Realty Co." your investment guide — It's better and more sure than the stock market. Capital gains give you most profit. Your interest on long term purchases are deductible from income tax, while the yearly increase in value exceeds this interest rate by double and often as high as 20 to 50%. Millionaires are among our clients as well as ambitious young people who will live to see great things here. Come in and let's talk over investments — there's no charge. You don't have to buy. Ask for our record on what we have done for others. Is that fair? Remember, here before your eyes is arising a new smogless Los Angeles and Hollywood by the same kind of people who made the first smogless Los Angeles — which is a thing of the past. Here we build again a dream city in God's fresh air and sunshine which will become the refuge of all who love life, providing our board of County Supervisors wake up and enact county laws now, that will bar smog industries and encourage only clean ones. Let's get these laws now — or elect people who will get them for us!

House Group Votes Down Excise Cuts

Corporation Levy
Also Would Not
Drop As Scheduled

By UNITED PRESS
The House Ways and Means Committee voted today to hold federal excise taxes on liquor, beer, cigarettes, gasoline and other items at their present levels for another year. The levies had been scheduled to drop April 1.
The committee also voted to postpone for one year the reduction in corporation income taxes from 52 to 47 per cent which had been slated for April 1.
Both actions were requested by President Eisenhower. He warned that letting the tax reductions take place on schedule would cost the treasury about $3 billion a year in revenue, and throw his balanced federal budget back into the red.

Other congressional news:
LOBBYING: Senate investigators learned that oil lobbyist John M. Neff, who made the $2500 campaign offer to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD), also contacted persons from four other states about the natural gas bill.
Neff's activities were recounted in testimony by his Lincoln, Neb., law partner, Paul J. Gerdies, as a special committee held its wind-up hearing on the Case incident.
TRAIN WRECKS: Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass) called for a congressional investigation to determine whether recent train wrecks in New England and elsewhere have been caused by a "lack of maintenance" by railroads.
UPPER COLORADO: The House planned to begin debate on the vast upper Colorado River storage project. Friends of the bill said it assured the future of the Rocky Mountain area. Foes said it would tie the area "to a horse and buggy farm economy." A close vote was expected.

PENSIONS: J. Addison Wagner, American Legion national commander, urged Congress to boost pensions for needy veterans of World War I and II. The veterans Administration said the Legion plan under consideration by the House Veterans Committee would cost a total of 77.3 billion dollars by the year 2000.

FARM: The administration put out compromise feelers in an effort to block a return to high rigid price supports. The administration appeared to be trying to win senators over crop by crop while the Senate debate on the omnibus farm bill continued in its second week. The big bill includes rigid supports on corn, cotton, peanuts and millable wheat.

340 Turn Out for Cub Scout Blue-Gold Dinner

Cub Scouts, their families and Scout officials, numbering 340 persons, attended the blue and gold dinner held by Cub Pack 80 at the Elks Club Sunday.

Following a dinner hosted by Elks Lodge 1905, sponsors of Cub Pack 80, and assisted by mothers of Cub Scouts, a short program was presented. Steven Morris, Cub Scout of Den 7, led the salute to the flag, and Jim Morton, head of Pack 80 and public relations man for the local Scout council, acted as master of ceremonies.

Carl Helmick, scout executive for the Riverside County Council, speaker for the day, told the group that this was "the largest attended Blue and Gold Dinner that I have ever been present at in my many years in scouting." Driver Killed in Truck-Car Crash North of Village

One man was killed in a truck-car crash late Saturday night, while two others escaped serious injury when their sports car overturned, in the two most serious area accidents over the weekend.

Fatally injured was George Houston Edgin, 35, San Diego, when his car skidded through the stop sign at the intersection of Indian Avenue and Highway 60-70-99 about 11:20 p.m.

Escaping serious injury when their sports car overturned on Highway 111, about a mile west of Highway 74, were Gregg La Chappelle, 25, and Richard Martin Keenan, 24, both of Los Angeles.

Edgin's car, according to California Highway Patrol officers, left approximately 21 feet of skid marks before the collision with a refrigeration truck and trailer, including 15 feet prior to the stop sign on the north side of the highway.

Marcus L. Neal, Turlock, driver of the truck, was uninjured.

Funeral services for Edgin will be held in Phoenix, Arizona. Survivors include his widow, Phyllis, and two daughters, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edgin of Phoenix.

City to Continue Hunt for Golf Course Land

City council yesterday decided to continue its efforts to obtain title, and title insurance, on land in Section 26 for possible use as a municipal golf course.

Action was taken at its information luncheon session at El Mirador Hotel, following discussion as to the possibility of private groups banding together to purchase the land as an investment, for use by the city as a municipal course.

An advisory committee is currently checking whether title, and then title insurance can be obtained. Its study is expected to take from two to three months.

In other action, council heard that two men from the Army Corps of Engineers are checking property which would be affected by flood waters from Tachevah Wash, and will submit recommendations to the county flood control director, John Bryant. Voters here approved the city participating in the improvement, at a cost of $100,000.

Master planning of the airport was discussed, and council voted to bring the plan up to date.
